Dear @irl:

If i can just steal a little time each day to talk with my girl i will be fortunate, and i really dont believe i will be kept very busy after a while, Last night i got my books balanced and was home at 500 0, clock, but tonight alex & Roy are coming down between trains so i will have to come down after supper, this will be their first trip this week, idont think it will be necessary for them to come again, nothing wrong this trip, but they just want to come and of course i am always glad to have them.

You must tell Nullie i do owe her an apoligy, but i thought she she would be home before you received my letter, I should have thanked her any way, but you will do that for me.

Estelle i am liking the work better each day/Lovingly, Spilly.
